

Sarah Hoover works for Austin Resource Recovery, where she helps businesses implement zero waste principles and meet the requirements of the Universal Recycling Ordinance. She currently leads the Zero Waste Business Rebate and the Construction and Demolition Recycling Ordinance. Sarah holds a TRUE Advisor certification from GBCI, which focuses on helping businesses achieve zero waste. Prior to working for ARR, Sarah worked for a recycling consulting firm and was part of a public/private partnership focused on waste reduction. She has also helped implement a recycling program at a large business where she worked as an engineer and project manager for ten years.

